TIME OUT

Activity sheet · Indoor

Time Out is a fun, clever and intense indoor team building activity.

It is held in a meeting or conference room. The group is divided into teams of about 6–10 people. Each team sits at a table that becomes its “base” during the activity. The participants then challenge their intelligence and creativity in a number of tasks in or just outside the room.

They soon realise that there are many problems, with both easy and very difficult tasks to choose from. Prioritising, structuring and cooperating is the solution. The clock is ticking – but is there enough time? Lots of laughter and crazy antics are promised during the hour the group has to solve all the problems and puzzles in Time Out.
