VERNISSAGE PAINTING

Activity sheet · Indoor

Vernissage painting is a relaxed and enjoyable activity with plenty of creativity!

The participants are divided into groups, and each group receives a linen canvas, an easel with brushes and paints, and protective aprons. A theme is then given out, which each group interprets in its own way. The painting itself takes about an hour, followed by the vernissage where the groups present their works.

After the customary mingling, where a winning team may be chosen, we give a short talk on “the psychology of colours” – a fun description of the personalities behind the different colours: what is the red person like, the blue one, and so on!

The emphasis is on stimulating the group’s cooperation and creativity while having a fun time together.
